

I understand the FCC is proposing to expand LPFM service that would enable these stations to take priority over current FM translator service, such as those of KLOVE radio stations heard on FM frequencies such as 91.5FM in Bangor, Maine. I've been a long time listener and supporter of KLOVE, I am passionate about their mission to effectively communicate the Gospel message to those who don't fully understand it, through full-time contemporary Christian music and short educational elements over radio, the internet, and other select targeted media - using modern day language and the highest professional standards. Through music and other faith based programming, the ministry of KLOVE touches my life daily and the lives of hundreds of thousands of people across the country and around the world on the internet, their message is positive and uplifting, regardless of one's domination, KLOVE's message touches your heart, it encourages me, strenghtens me, often when I'm not in church on Sunday- that is when I need to hear their message the most. It is like an electrical current, Christians need to be plugged in to spiritually uplifting current all the time, KLOVE's music and programming is that current. Through their ministry I am confident they are building stronger, kinder, gentler people who are grounded in their faith with higher ethical and moral standards and beliefs. These kinds of people are the fabric of strong families and the quilts of strong communities! I contribute $50 per month to KLOVE, it pays for just over an hour of programming and I am one of hundreds of thousands of people doing the same, we believe so much in KLOVE's mission that we all come together and give what we can to keep them on the air- on a regular FM frequency. Can those for profit radio stations who rely on advertising to keep their programming on the air, say the same? Take away their advertising and they fail. Please, keep all of KLOVE's FM stations right where they are, don't give LPFM priority over the FM translator services. I and countless others tune into everyday to KLOVE for our uplifting and encouraging jumpstart, I need the current, don't change a thing! Thank you!
